DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Uemura '982 (supplied by Applicant in the IDS filed 9/17/04).

- a. See e.g., FIG. 7 and the associated discussion e.g., [0068] – wherein a wirebonded, substrate-emitting III-N LED is mounted on a convex or “swollen” portion having an inclined surface of a reflective mount frame by means of light transmissible material 71.
- b. As the LED is entirely within the boundary of the convex portion, the convex portion supports substantially the center of gravity of the elements set forth in claims 5-7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2815

4. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uemura '982 as applied to the claims above.

a. Regardless of whether Uemura further discloses that the p-side electrode can be connected by plural—as opposed to a single—p-side bond wires, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed plural p-side bond wires for various conventional reasons, including:

- i. to increase the lateral current spreading, based upon the particular p-electrode material being employed;
- ii. to serve as a back-up or redundant wirings in the event that one p-side bond wire becomes detached; or
- iii. to increase heat sinking since it was conventionally known that III-N emitters generate significant heat that can cause premature failure, and because the Uemura '982 LED—being surrounded by the transparent encapsulants—is relatively thermally isolated.
